

Head of Campus update

Dear Parents,

Welcome to the last edition of Headlines for this school year. It has certainly been a whirlwind year and it is hard to believe we are at the end of term already.

Reading the children's reports, I was impressed by the amount of progress they had made, both academically and socially. The new curriculum has had a profound impact on improving standards in maths and English and as this embeds next year, we hope to see even greater achievement and academic success. The children are happy and enjoy their time at school, which is very important to us. The extended ECA programme has offered something for everyone and extended learning opportunities. We look forward to developing our partnership with external organisations next year and building upon this year's successes. Our Friends of Compass School parent group has made a really good start to introducing community based events and I am pleased that so many of you were able to take part in these.

Over the summer months, we hope to make some improvements to the buildings to create a better experience for our community. In September, we will launch an enhanced music programme as a result of our collaboration with the Juilliard School and launch a new STEAM initiative to increase our focus on science, technology and maths.

This week, we have Norman Jupiter bear in school, visiting our classes. He has travelled the world as part of a Global Campus project to visit schools and find out about the countries we live in. We have packed some Qatari items and CISD Rayyan objects into his suitcase to share with our other schools. At the end of the week, Norman Jupiter will head off to Vietnam to learn about our NAE school there and visit the children. They will have a chance to look in his suitcase to discover what has been packed at each school on his tour. It has been lovely to share our school with him.

This week we will be focusing on art in class with projects linked to learning in the International Primary Curriculum units. The children will learn about a particular artist or style of art in depth and prepare displays on their chosen theme. I look forward to seeing them on display in September.

The suppliers of the new school uniform are Ascot Uniforms. You can order online and have the uniform delivered to school or home. Please find the link here.

Thank you for your generosity towards the Security Guards, cleaning and maintenance staff at Rayyan. They were very touched by the fact that the school community values and appreciates their work. The contribution helps to support their families at home and that has made a difference to them.

Finally, I would like to thank you for the outstanding support you have given me and the staff at Rayyan throughout the year. Education is a partnership between teachers, parents and children and we have established very strong links between all members of our school community to build upon next year. Have a great summer and I look forward to welcoming you back to Rayyan Campus in September.
