

Helpful Math's websites

Below are some useful websites that we use in school to aid our teaching, but they also have lots of good games on them that you can play at home. Education City is an invaluable tool that we use when we teach math's that you can access at home,.

<http://www.bbc.co.uk/bitesize/ks1/maths/>

<http://www.topmarks.co.uk/interactive.aspx?cat=8>

<http://www.ictgames.com/resources.html>

<http://www.primarygames.co.uk/pg2/splat/splatsq100.html> (this is an interactive 100 square that the children enjoy working with)

<http://www.funbrain.com>

<http://resources.woodlands-junior.kent.sch.uk/maths/>

<http://www.primaryinteractive.co.uk/maths.htm>

<http://www.educationcity.com/start/>

<http://www.crickweb.co.uk/ks1numeracy.html>

<http://www.multiplication.com/>