

Activities to do with your children to encourage learning

Create a scrap book/journal

Encourage your child to write and draw daily about what they are doing, where they have travelled, what they have seen.

They can add pictures, photographs, posters, tickets, guides.

This is a great way to keep them engaged and focused on practicing their writing skills.

Practicing Learning the Letter Sounds

The Jolly Learning website has a whole host of activities and educational games for children to practice learning the letter sounds. There are many levels, so choose the age appropriate one and enjoy together.

There are also a number of books available to support through the website such as:
