CITY	MONTH	AVERAGE HIGH	AVERAGE LOW
Lijiang Area	October	21	14
Shaxi Valley	October	24	15

This region has an elevation of over 2,000 meters (6,500 feet) and is affected by monsoonal systems from the Himalayas, the climate characteristics warrant certain preparations for travelers. The first consideration is UV protection. It is essential to have quality sunglasses, sunscreen and a hat when exposed on hikes or biking. The weather also experiences temperature swings in late Fall, with temperatures near zero Celsius at night and in the mid to upper twenties during the day. Thus smart layering is something that every traveler should consider; light jackets over fleece or sweaters with a base layer. The wind can come up suddenly here, and just as easily the sun can disappear as rain comes in and drop the air temperature 10 degrees in less than an hour. An ultralight waterproof jacket is a very convenient article of clothing, as is a good sun hat.

For hiking around in the area, most of the trails are more natural (dirts and rocks rather than paved trails). They can at times be rocky or muddy and steep. Quality hiking boots are a must, or at least trail running shoes that offer more protection than ordinary trainers. Quick dry hiking pants also offer better protection from prickly scrub on local trails than shorts. Two good, durable reusable one liter water bottle is a MUST.

CLIMATE AND PACKING LIST

WHAT ARE THE ITEMS THAT ARE MOST COMMONLY FORGOTTEN?

The following items are ones that we put on the packing list, but are commonly forgotten. These are ESSENTIAL items, so try to remember them.

- Bike Helmet- seriously its worth the investment for your own safety.
- 2 x 1 liter reuseable water bottles
- 1x breathable waterproof jacket
- 1x pair of Hiking boots or Hiking Shoes
- Sun screen
- Torch/headlight

Special Notes

Bike Helmet: If the you are planning on riding, then we HIGHLY encourage you to bring their own helmet. We cannot guarantee the quality of rental helmets, e.g. if they have been dropped. For your head's sake, bring a helmet if you want to ride.

Water Bottles: Everyone is EXPECTED to have at least 2x 1 Liter reusable water bottles. This is a MUST for Tiger Leaping Gorge.

WHY SHOULDN'T I BRING A ROLL-ALONG SUIT CASE?

The short answer is because over the course of the program, we are moving around so much that these types of bags become cumbersome. Often we have to unload the bus and walk distance on pathways or dirt roads in order to get to where we are staying. It is therefore HIGHLY recommended that you NOT bring roll-along suitcases on the program.

WILL IT GET HOT? COLD?

More than likely there will be times where we will experience some heat and strong sunlight. The sun can be much stronger in Northern Yunnan than in the northern provinces, so come prepared with hat, sun glasses, and sunscreen. We also recommend bring some warm layers as it will get chilly at night in the Tiger Leaping Gorge.

WHAT SORT OF FOOTWEAR SHOULD I BRING?

We HIGHLY recommend bringing a pair hiking boots or hiking shoes. Trainers are not good or safe for the terrain in either the Tiger Leaping Gorge or hiking on Shiboshan mountain. We also HIGHLY recommend that you wear your boots and shoes prior to the program. It is not wise to break out a new pair when we begin hiking.

WILL IT RAIN?

Our good friends in Yunnan assured us that we will likely get wet during our program. September is the tail end of the wet summer, so showers are common. You should come prepared with Rain Gear (Jackets, Ponchos, extra shoes/sandal, quick dry clothes, and umbrellas.) Not to worry- we won't let a little rain get in our way!

WILL THERE BE BUGS?

Yes, there will be bugs. Come prepared with an open mind and some bug repellent.
