

Being Ambitious Professional Learning

Bangkok Teachers Network event for Teaching and Learning Support Assistants at Shrewsbury International School, Bangkok on 3rd October 2015

13 of our staff from across the school attended this event, the first of its kind, and it was a huge success. Those attending were really enthusiastic and had great fun getting involved in all the activities. The Literacy Games session was very good for helping children learn how to construct words with different letters and how to make a story and the Numeracy session introduced some very useful apps for use in the classroom.

Following the event many of the ideas and themes have been discussed at the school and are now being incorporated into lessons.

Do you have any professional development news you want to share?
If so contact Mark Loader at mark.loader@regents-pattaya.co.th