Each and every person has a unique story to tell. At The Village School, we know the importance of tailoring a rigorous academic curriculum to the student’s individual journey. We create, explore, learn, and collaborate as a family, but everyone brings a unique perspective to the community. We are eager to share our stories with you and hope to hear yours.

Jay’s Story...

He fidgets in his seat as he eagerly awaits his table to be released to gather art supplies. He knows what he’s going to draw for the art project and he isn’t afraid to show it. He selects each color he will need to draw out the map for his creation - a space ambulance. This is only step one and he quickly thinks of exactly what he’ll need to bring this creation to life for their curriculum show at the end of the month.

Abhijay is a pre-K 4 student at The Village School whose favorite subjects are space and the human body. He knows exactly what he wants to be when he grows up, a doctor who practices in space. How will he get there? A space ambulance of course.

Abhijay has no shortage of curiosity or excitement in his learning and is a great example of what the Finna Learning Center is about. He takes on problems and rarely finds one he can’t overcome. Though he’s only been at The Village School for one year he knows that the projects he has worked on here make a difference and looks forward to class each day.

Our Village Story...

The Village School was founded in 1966. What started as a small, private nursery school is now a vibrant campus of approximately 1,700 students, from early childhood through high school. Our school initially served 100 students, aged three through five. In 1973, Betty Moore acquired the school and set forth the school's original mission to “foster excellence through knowledge, character, and integrity,” a guiding legacy that continues to shape the school’s culture of champions.

Today, The Village School inhabits over 28 acres in a residential area of West Houston. The campus consists of more than 337,000 square feet of facilities. In addition, the school recently completed an extensive campus expansion with a new state-of-the-art gymnasium and competitive swim center. Our community of students from over 60 nations shares a commitment to uncommonly high levels of achievement. Our dedicated and caring faculty and staff continue to prepare students for future success at the most prestigious colleges and universities throughout the world. We are fully accredited by the Texas Association of Accredited Private Schools (TAAPS) and the International Baccalaureate Organization (IBO). Village High School is an official International Baccalaureate World School offering the IB Diploma Programme.
