Sylvia’s Story...

She hears her roommates calling down the hall for her to hurry up and puts the final touches on her hair for the day and grabs her bag for class. Most students arrived 15 minutes ago so she calculates that they will have plenty of time for breakfast before the first bell rings. She may even have a few extra moments to review her Theory of Knowledge paper and help some friends peer review theirs.

Sylvia H. was born in Guangzhou, China. She has been at Village for three years and is a junior in the high school residential life program. She has a deep appreciation for different cultures and perspectives. Her favorite class is Theory of Knowledge (TOK) because she has the opportunity to analyze different world perspectives and discuss a wide range of knowledge that encompasses multiple areas.

Sylvia wants to attend college in the US and has her hopes set on attending USC while majoring in communications. She is multilingual, speaking Mandarin, Cantonese and English fluently, and is on her way to learning Spanish.

Our Village Story...

The Village School was founded in 1966. What started as a small, private nursery school is now a vibrant campus of approximately 1,700 students, from early childhood through high school. Our school initially served 100 students, aged three through five. In 1973, Betty Moore acquired the school and set forth the school’s original mission to “foster excellence through knowledge, character, and integrity,” a guiding legacy that continues to shape the school’s culture of champions.

Today, The Village School inhabits over 28 acres in a residential area of West Houston. The campus consists of more than 337,000 square feet of facilities. In addition, the school recently completed an extensive campus expansion with a new state-of-the-art gymnasium and competitive swim center. Our community of students from over 60 nations shares a commitment to uncommonly high levels of achievement. Our dedicated and caring faculty and staff continue to prepare students for future success at the most prestigious colleges and universities throughout the world. We are fully accredited by the Texas Association of Accredited Private Schools (TAAPS) and the International Baccalaureate Organization (IBO). Village High School is an official International Baccalaureate World School offering the IB Diploma Programme.
